

Our Rust Loosener and Contact Spray is a highly effective technical spray made for production and maintenance. This spray is used around the world and will be found everywhere from home garages and sheds to large oil and gas, mining and metal working operations.

One of the key benefits of Rust Loosener and Contact Spray is its versatility. As the name suggests, it is very good at breaking down and loosening rust. It works on rusted surfaces and, thanks to its excellent creeping ability, rusted parts and crevices. Here it penetrates down into even the tightest spaces to lubricate the part and ease rust removal.

In addition to being a good option for rust eradication, Rust Removal Spray is a very good lubricant. It eases the movement of stiff parts, screws, bolts joints and hinges and is also good for surface lubrication. This penetrating oil also dispels moisture and provides treated parts and surfaces with excellent protection from corrosion and oxidation.

Rust Loosener and Contact Spray is also a good cleaner for metal surfaces and parts and can help improve the function of mechanical parts and contacts like distributor caps or spark plugs.

This high-quality spray is manufactured by Weicon in Germany. It has a beige colour as it is applied and can withstand temperatures between -50°C and +150°C. Each 400ml can of this high-performance penetrating oil and lubricant is supplied with a 3-way spray valve system that makes it possible for you to spray in any position (even overhead).
